School Building Program Cut Almost One-Half

All Residents Urged To Vote

Parade And Rally For Support Of Bond Issue Slated Monday Night

Residents will go to the polls Tuesday, November 6, to determine whether or not they wish to spend another $180,000 to complete the Community Center Building.

The additional bond issue was found necessary when the high cost of labor and materials ruled out the original price of $295,000, set on the structure two years ago, city officials say.

Passage of the bond issue will allow the city to proceed immediately with construction of the teen-age center, kitchen and meeting halls. Should the bond issue not pass, this work would have to be financed from the general fund over a period of many years, Mayor Paul Green said.

Under the present contract, funds appropriated for the Center will be exhausted when the lobby and auditorium are completed. These rooms will be open about December 1, but the rest of the unfinished building will be closed.

COMMUNITY CENTER BUILDING TOUR SET

Residents today were invited to tour the Community Center Building, Alp and Mission streets, over the weekend.

Councilman Fred Bertetta said the building would be open for public inspection all day Saturday and Sunday.

Either Bertetta, or another city representative will be at the building both days to show residents through the completed portion of the structure.

"We also will answer any questions concerning the coming bond issue," Bertetta said.

In fact, the councilman urged those with doubts about the wisdom of completing the building to bring their questions to the "open house." He said he was certain they would change their minds when they were presented with all the facts.

Martinelli was charged with a felony for allowing the bookies to rent a basement apartment in his home. The Daly City man first pled not guilty, then later changed his plea to guilty.

Viewing Martinelli's record, which shows no previous convictions, Judge Scott reduced the charge to a misdemeanor.

The sentence was accompanied by a stern lecture from Judge Scott, who warned Martinelli such activity could place him in San Quentin.

$40 A Month
Martinelli told the court he regretted the incident.

"BOOK" THROWN AT FOUR LOCAL BOOKMAKERS

Federal Government Moves To Stop Bookies

Daly City bookies, many who claim to take bets because ulcers keep them out of honest work, had a double dose of stomach trouble today.

The turn of events was prompted by two moves, county and federal, this week:

1. Monday, Judge Murray Draper levied $13,000 in fines against four Daly City bookies. Record high fines of $4,000 each were dealt to Danny Capese, 35, 859 Larchmont Drive; and Albert Leffler, 48, of San Francisco. They were also placed on three years' probation for operating a $15,000 a day layoff bookies joint in Daly City which was closed in a raid by the district attorney's office August 15.

Two small time bookies, Aldo (Blinky) Ferraris, 32, of San Bruno, and Robert L. Magidson, 35, of San Francisco, were also given stiff fines. Ferraris was fined $3,500 while Magidson was assessed $1,500. Both men were caught taking bets at 6157 Mission street, September 13.

New Law

2. A new federal law, which went into effect midnight Wednesday, requires bookies to pay 10 per cent of their gross take in taxes. The law also requires bookies to purchase a $50 "business license" for an otherwise illegal business. Bookies assert the license will be nothing so much as a handy guide to their activities, and the tax will take the profit out of bookmaking.

No Profit

Perhaps the federal government has the same thing in mind as Judge Draper. The judge said, "I don't know of a greater inducement against bookmaking than taking the profit out of it."

Just how profitable bookmaking "was" can be found in report of Adult Probation Officer Don Hellbush. He told the court that the fines imposed on Capese and Leffler represented eight days' profit from the "commission house" they operated at 250 Citrus avenue. He said each of them netted about $500 a day.

However, there seems to be one consolation for honest men... "all" the bookies have ulcers. This was the main defense put forth by their attorneys Monday.

Robert Dell'Ergo, attorney for Capese and Leffler, said the men didn't intend bookmaking to be a permanent livelihood. He said Capese suffered from ulcers and drifted into taking bets because of a "health problem."

Ferraris, of the other bookie team, told the court: "I entered this business because the profits were greater than my previous business."

He said both he and his $100 a week employee, Magidson, were tormented by ulcers, and found it difficult to work in legitimate business.

According to probation reports, Ferraris has taken bets continuously for the past 4½ years alternating between North San Mateo county and San Francisco.

In conclusion, Judge Draper gave the four men 10 days in which to raise their fines, and warned, ulcers or not, any violation of their probation and they would land in jail.

Three Months Later

Marchbanks Park Recreation Building Repair Job Gets Underway Monday

It took three months, but true to their word city officials this week gave the go-ahead signal for carpenters to repair the Marchbanks Park building. Work to remodel the structure started early this week, Dan Andersen, city administrator, said today. He said the complete job of repairing the building should be completed in "about two weeks."

It was just three months ago that the Daly City Recreation Commission asked the city to repair the badly weather worn, and "children worn" structure. The showers and toilet facilities were in an utter state of disrepair, as was a good part of the rest of the building. Shortage of materials and the difficulty in obtaining labor for the job were the reasons given by city officials for the delay.

Andersen said when the building is completed, the shower facilities will be "off limits" for children during the week, and used only for the Sunday ball games. However, he said the rest of the building "if properly supervised" would be open to the small fry.

Transportation

Trackless Trolleys Soon To Replace bus Service On Daly City Line

Daly City was one step closer today to having present busses replaced by trackless trolleys.

The San Francisco Municipal Railway this week received the first of 25 new PCC cars, Utilities Manager James H. Turner announced.

Several of these new cars will be put on the No. 14 line within the next 90 days. They will afford faster, more comfortable service for local residents traveling between here and San Francisco.

The service will go into effect as soon as all the lines have been put up to handle the trolleys.

Community Chest Drive Brightens

Price Reports Almost 50% Of Quota Today

Off to a slow start, local residents this week were doing a little better by the Community Chest fund raising campaign.

Campaign Manager Jack Price reports to-date $4,500 of the $9,550 has been collected.

"We expect to get quite a bit more, and the results look quite encouraging," Price said.

Although the drive is officially over, Price said collectors would continue to offer residents an opportunity to donate to the chest fund.

Grade School All Purpose Rooms Halted

Decline In Expected Population Given As Reason For Building Cuts

Plans for construction of a new upper grade school and two all-purpose rooms were temporarily shelved this week by the Jefferson Elementary School District. Cutbacks in home construction in the Daly City area, with the subsequent decline in expected population growth, prompted the action, H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, said today.

The shelving of the plans was ordered by the State Department of Finance.

The decision follows a re-survey recently of local growth and its effect upon school building needs. From this survey it was determined that all of the $3 million school building program, approved by voters early last year, was not necessary to handle the expected growth in the school population.

According to the state, some of the money from the local program will be better spent in areas with a faster population growth.

However, the state officials emphasized this was a temporary measure, and would be altered if local growth warranted the original building program.

Temporarily cut out of the construction plan are:

1. The upper grade school at Garden Village. This was to include 18 classrooms for students from the sixth through seventh grade. State officials said present population growth indicates only one new upper grade school is needed... at Colma.

2. The all purpose room at the Westlake and Woodrow Wilson Schools. These rooms are combination auditoriums and cafeterias. Superintendent Weibel said it would be difficult for the children to do without these rooms, but it was a case of sacrificing them, or cutting down on the number of more necessary class rooms.

Double Sessions
How will this reduction in construction effect double sessions?

Superintendent Weibel noted it would have no noticeable effect, if the present slow rate of growth continues in the Daly City area. His reasoning, and that of the State, is based on the following:

1. On November 5 the new Westlake School will open. This will take the load of double sessions off most of the schools.

However, there still will be swing shift classes in "some seventh and eighth grades" at Colma and two first grade classes at Thornton Schools. These will be the only groups on double sessions after November 5.

More Work
2. Within the next three to four months work will begin on a wing (Continued on Page 2)

NO LUCK AT ALL
Driver Almost Plows Into Police Station

Within sight of the Daly City police station Joe Canavesio of 35 Rial street, bounced his car over the curb and into a fire hydrant, at 2:10 early Tuesday morning.

We gather up the story from Officer Johnstone's point of view. He was keeping his lonely vigil in the station when he heard a loud thump that sounded as if an automobile had struck something.

Being paid to investigate these matters, he looked out of the window and noticed a car backing off of the curb on Irvington street. Then the car in question started north, but in a very slow manner, and, furthermore, on the wrong side of the street.

That was enough for Officer Johnstone. Within a short time he caught up with the miscreant car and was told the driver's troubles. In trying to make a left turn he had overshot the corner of Wellington and Irvington streets and struck the fire hydrant.

Although this piece of city property was not damaged, Canavesio's car was not so fortunate. Neither was Canavesio. He was booked at the police station on two charges—driving without an operator's license in his possession, and driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

His bail was set at $125 cash.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Just the other day a friend called to say she had made a great discovery. "The most marvelous TABLE you ever saw, my dear, but really! One of those oak elephants of dining room tables they used to use in dining rooms—if you can imagine? Well, we're going to cut it down for a coffee table. Doesn't it sound PERFECT?" and I agreed, but not without some sadness for those almost forgotten days of the "round tables" and the way of life they symbolized.

That high balls and hors d'oeuvres should shoulder ash trays on a table made to stand firm under heaped up platters and bowls of good, rich, hearty and mouth watering PLENTIFUL FOOD was a sad commentary on our present day habits. Need I mention our "economy?" And what's more sorrowful than a formica top of vinylite cloth plus paper napkins after knowing, the smooth, silky whiteness of fresh laundered linen?

"Funny thing about linen" said Mother, pointing her knitting needles toward my piled up ironing basket. "You like everything about it but the washing and ironing—seems to me!"

Explanation
"But, Mother—" I tried to explain.

"Don't 'But' me," she hissed. "When I was a girl they called flatirons 'sad-irons' and nothing could be truer. You may have read a lot about the good old days—ha, ha—but if you had to live through a few of them the way I did you'd be singing a mighty different kind of tune! Why women these days don't know the meaning of an honest day's house work. Take away your gas and electricity, hide the can openers, and the whole shebang would go to pot!"

"But Mother," I cried, as she pursed her lips over two dropped stitches, "things were different in those days—easier! Wages were lower, but food was cheaper and just think of the mental strain WE live under now!"

"Don't hand me that guff," Mother came back in a modern style acquired from her two grandsons in the Army. "We had husbands, like you—didn't we? We had babies, didn't we? And don't talk to me about mental strain, because after rearing five children I'm really an expert on that! But," she added softly and putting her knitting away, "I think this new generation is swell!"

A Mouthful
"But, Mother—" I sammered, "you just said—"

"I said a mouthful," she murmured gently, "with a lot of truth in it. When I was a girl, my mother said much the same kind of mouthful to ME and believe me, I felt just the way you look right now, but she also told me that all anyone can do is their best. Just remember that and live up to it!" she added, winking pointedly toward my messy kitchen and graciously ignoring the fresh load of books from the library. "You'll do all right."

Square tables, round tables, breakfast nook or delicatessen delivery—so what do they matter? It is not "things" that make our lives, but our ways of using them that count. And as mother implied—"That goes for excuses, too!"

CITIZEN'S POLL

I do think that the superintendent would have to decide on the feasibility of the plan.

Good Idea
Mrs. Edna Hansen, 341 Winchester street, said, "with the shortage of space and facilities, the Community Center should be used temporarily for a school if possible."

Mrs. F. Kirkhofer, 74 Tallwood drive, and Mrs. E. V. Kelly, 462 Bellevue avenue, both voiced their approval on the proposed idea but had no other comment.

And while he wasn't directly contacted, Mayor Paul Green at a meeting of the Recreation Commission last week indicated he was in favor of such a plan. He said if it was feasible, and within the laws of the state, something probably could be worked out when the Center is completed.

GUNMEN ROB BELLI MARKET

the cash register drawer, and running for a nearby phone. The gunman yelled: "Stop, or I'll shoot."

Mr. Belli, only a few feet away, told his wife to obey the man. He then proceeded to the cash register, and under the point of a gun, emptied the till of about $50.

With methodical coolness, the thief ordered Belli to open a second cash register. He emptied the drawer into a paper bag.

"Now, open the safe," the man said. Belli, who was continually reassuring his wife, did as he was ordered. The thief emptied the contents of the safe into his pockets and another bag.

Warning
After warning the couple to keep quiet, he backed out of the door, and ran to a car parked adjacent to the store. Another companion was in the waiting car. The green, late model sedan was last seen disappearing into the fog on Castle Street.

San Francisco police report that two men, answering the same general description, took $50 from the Legee Grocery, 500 Twenty-ninth street, at 7:50 p.m., and $112 from Hilder's Market, 598 Silver Avenue, about 8:05 p.m.

a look at the Community Center building before election day," Mayor Green said. "I am sure, then, they will see the necessity of completing the structure."

Meanwhile, the interest of Senator Wm. F. Knowland and Congressman Jack Z. Anderson in Daly City's War Memorial Community Center was evidenced today when the city received authorization from the National Production Authority for 12 tons of steel parts and 4500 pounds of copper alloy products needed to complete the building.

Both Senator Knowland and Congressman Anderson have followed the progress of the Community Center from its inception, and the latest application for strategic materials was processed through their offices.

The authorization guarantees all of the materials required to complete the building, Mayor Paul Green said.

ONE OF LARGEST LUMBER MILLS

One of the largest lumber mills in the world is reported by the National Automobile Club to be located at Westwood in Lassen county, California.

$500 FINE LEVIED AGAINST LANDLORD

ceived $40 a month for allowing the basement of his home to be used as a betting place.

"It is a shame that a fellow like you would disgrace yourself and your family for $40 a month," Judge Scott said, "and that is just what you have done. You can't chisel this way. If you want to rent that room, rent it to a good, honest fellow."

Meanwhile, a similar charge is pending against A. J. McArthur, real estate dealer, and owner of the Lady Esther Pastry Shop, which housed two bookies in Daly City. McArthur has pled not guilty, and will go to trial in superior court November 15.

Gowns Featured In Christmas House Tour

A display of the lovely custom hand knits designed by Dee Reynolds will be a feature at the Robert Steiner home during the December 12 and 13 Christmas House Tour sponsored by the Garden Study Club of the Peninsula.

The gowns, which will be knitted especially for the event, will cover every holiday need in milady's wardrobe. Appropriate hats for each costume will be designed by Catherine Rath of Burlingame.

Mannequins from the Garden Study Club membership who will display the ensembles are the Mesdames: James E. Walz, Alfred EVIDENTLY ENJOYING THEMSELVES at the recent banquet of the William Lagomarsino Co., are these friends and employees of William and Ricco Lagomarsino.

Lagomarsino Banquet

25 Years Of Business

Marking 26 years in business here, the William Lagomarsino Co. Sunday, October 21, staged a banquet for employees and friends of the organization.

The dinner was held at Oliver's in South San Francisco, and was attended by scores of local residents.

This is an annual affair sponsored by Ricco and William Lagomarsino to honor their many employees. The complete expense of the affair is born by the company.

During the past 26 years the firm at 7100 Mission has grown to be one of the leading real estate and insurance businesses in the Daly City area. The company, also, recently entered the building field and have constructed many fine homes in the Garden Valley area.

Those who attended the Sunday banquet included the two hosts and their wives, and Messrs. and Mesdames: Carl F. Huber, R. L. Ariani, Al Banfield, Frank Moran, John Ferrari, Tony Luccetti, Al Sperlich, Joe Maffei, James Spencer, Charles Jenkins, Edward Kralich, C. Lipman, V. R. Nielsen, Richard Peeler, Fred Lane, John DeVolter, George Masnon, James Kennedy, George Hopman and Elmer Kennedy.

"Of course, if building steps-up, and there is a sharp population increase, the state probably will re-instate original plans for the additional classrooms," Weibel said.

He noted should the home construction increase here, the Jefferson Elementary School District would immediately call for another survey and completion of original school construction plans.

Decision
The state reached its decision to cut school construction here after it viewed the following report:

1. Local builders said there will be 52 new homes ready for occupancy by October 31 of this year. This compares with 502 homes for February of 1950. The comparative surveys indicate that home construction here has fallen off almost 900 per cent during the past 18 months. With this, has been a subsequent decrease in earlier estimates of population growth, and less need for new school buildings.

Building
2. Local builders report that home building for next year (under present war conditions) will be greatly curtailed.

Based on these figures, the state's report concluded the local school building program could be slashed. Of the 155,685 square feet allotted for new building here early last year, the state cut the figure down to 81,560 square feet.

With this reduction in building . . . almost 50 per cent of the original plans . . . the Jefferson Elementary School District had to decide what construction could be curbed for the present. The upper Garden Village School and the all purpose rooms were then shelved.

Superintendent Weibel said the Broadmoor area school was sacrificed for the Colma School because of transportation problems. He indicated it would be easier for children to get to an upper grade school in the Colma area than one at Broadmoor.

As for the two all purpose rooms, he repeated it was simply a case of discarding plans for them, or eliminating more necessary classrooms.

Pittman, John Haman, and C. D. Allen. Arranging for the unusual showing, which will repeat throughout both afternoons, are the Mesdames D. H. Seager and L. Pearce Coy. Mrs. George Ross of Peninsula fashion commutation fame, will direct the display.

With the breaking of the pinata, in the best of Latin American tradition, at the Irwin Rice dwelling in Burlingame on the closing day of the tour, some lucky person will be the proud owner of one of these lovely dresses designed exclusively for her.

Drive Continues To Collect Clothes For Thousands Of Korea Refugees

As the second winter of the Korean War approaches, Daly City residents are urged to donate used clothing to dress thousands of homeless Korean refugees.

All kinds and sizes of clothing are welcome. It is requested, however, they be in good condition. Clothes may be dropped off at any of the following locations:

Daly City Theatre, Mission street; Serra Theatre, Junipero Serra blvd.; Ice Cream Land, Junipero Serra blvd.; PG&E office, Wellington street; Gleason's Dress Shop, 6335 Mission; Mary's Dinette, 6331 Mission; Godfrey's Ice Cream, Westlake; Daly City Firehouse No. 2, 499 Santa Barbara; King's Market, Broadmoor; Westlake Town & County Food Center; Fran's Beauty Nook, 11 Hillcrest drive.

If you are unable to take clothes to designated places, call PLaza 5-6325 and they will be picked up. The Ark Clothing Collection Drive for Korean refugees, is under the sponsorship of Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, Daly City.

Community Center Bond Election Tuesday

Voting, is at best a nuisance, but it seems to be one of those duties involved with democracy. Come next Tuesday, residents will go to the polls to decide on the fate of the Community Center Building.

Much has been said both for and against this election and we don't intend to rehash it all here. However, we do hope both sides will express themselves Tuesday. And perhaps we are just optimistic enough to believe our hope will become a reality...that more than one-third of the voters will find time to give up their TV or radio programs in favor of the ballot box.

And yet, when it is all over, we are sure to meet a resident who will innocently ask: "What bond election? Why wasn't I told about it?"

Actually what that resident is saying is this: "Those guys who are dying in Korea aren't fighting for anything more than my right to stay home and ignore an election." And he may have something there, but it doesn't seem to be much stacked up against a single soldier's death.

No, there is more at stake Tuesday than a Community Center. It appears to us that this election, as any election, is a test of how much those at home really care for those who have died to keep them there.

But we don't want to disturb that Tuesday evening TV or radio program, so maybe it would be just as well to let the whole thing go at that. Yes, voting is at best a nuisance...and they say even dying is a "nuisance," especially when you're only a boy in uniform.

Getting The Inside Story On Crime

Crime seems to hold a fascination for a great many people, as witnessed by the sales of mysteries and the number of radio programs based on refined slaughter. Consequently, it will amaze us if a good number of local residents fail to turn out for auxiliary police training now being offered by the local police department.

The purpose of the course isn't to train would be Sherlock Holmes, but a little of the aura of the crime chasers is bound to rub off on those who avail themselves of the opportunity of police training.

Actually, the course is being given to train men for civilian defense duty. When they have completed their studies they will be able to cope with an emergency otherwise impossible for the small local police force.

This, however, shouldn't detract from the interest any full blooded amateur sleuth has in police work. Civilian defense work is dry enough, but when it's spiced with an opportunity to see the cops with their badges down, it should afford many a man the motive for signing up for the auxiliary duties.

Chief Roland Petrocchi is going to be in charge of the course which, when completed, should allow you to speak knowingly of the inner workings of law enforcement.

And think of the edge you will have over Cousin Mowrie in detecting the flaws in those mysteries, both written and in the movies.

All in all we can't think of a more profitable, exciting way of spending a few hours each week than taking auxiliary police training. If you're interested, sign up today at the police department. But after 5 o'clock, please!

The Dog Did It

Some residents suffered quite a jolt last week, not to say a certain Community Chest worker, when it was reported an irate resident turned his watch dog on a chest fund collector.

Secretly, we suppose, many a home owner would have delighted to do the same thing, for no other reason than to shock his next door neighbor. There appears to be just enough imagination and sadism in the watch dog's owner to make readers speculate on what type of man he is...how he treats his wife...how he gets along on his job...what he feeds his dog.

Moreover, the Community Chest drive in Daly City, at least, owes the hound owner a vote of thanks. It appears the story shocked just enough people to shake loose quite a few dollars for the campaign. We can imagine the next door neighbor, who had a Chest sticker in his window, idly speculating on whether the man across the street (who had no such sticker, only a dog) was the one who sent the Chest worker scurrying for the street. And the man across the street probably got the idea, and hastily dug down for the contribution necessary to allow him a sticker in his window.

We grant this may be a bit far fetched, but somewhere along the line Daly City residents suddenly began to cough up for the Chest. It seems logical to us that the man with the dog was the reason.

But the drive is still short of the goal. Now, if a man were to bite a dog...

Hark The Bookies Lament

Many a bookie was weeping a silent tear for the dear, dead days beyond recall, today. Along with the witches and hobgoblins, the bookies went out of business at midnight Halloween. Only it looks like they may not be back as soon as the mesdames and their brooms.

You can put the blame on Uncle Sam for the sudden upswing in the sales of bromides in the bookmaking circles. Dear Uncle has slapped a 10 per cent tax on the bookies' gross profits. And to add insult to monetary disaster, he now makes it illegal for a gent who's operating illegally anyway, to carry on business without a $50 "business license."

All of this may not make much sense to the uninitiated, but it boils down to trouble with the "feds" if the bookies don't obey the federal laws. And getting into a jam with

Uncle Sam's boys is worse than being at outs with the local political faction...you just don't go out of business, you end up in the lockup.

The bookies' lament is simply that they can't make ends meet by dishing out 10 per cent of their gross take. They also wonder how long they could stay in business either with or without the federal license. The license would be a handy guide to cops who really believe in upholding the law.

Things are so bad that most bookies have simply turned to less profitable, honest labor. This is one time where the odds are too great, even for the bookies.

So it seems the final cleanup in Daly City, and the rest of the nation, has been the one thing that has cleaned us all...taxes.

Football Is For The Professionals

On the cover of Occidental College's football brochure appears a telling jibe at play-for-pay intercollegiate athletics: "Respectfully dedicated to the real vanishing American—the true amateur athlete."

It may be pretty generally true that the simon pure athlete has become scarce on many campuses—especially those represented by football juggernauts which vie for national rating and the lucrative post-season bowl games. Yet it seems rather unfair to the many hundreds of players concerned to imply that they, as individuals, have something to apologize for—somehow morally culpable—in consequence.

The real sin is the sin of hypocrisy—the pretense of pure amateurism where it plainly does not and cannot exist. Every football fan of intelligence knows how winning football is consistently achieved. The Old Grads demand a winner. They "talk" to prep stars. An expensive coach is hired—on a basis of win or get out. To win, he not only has to have good material, but the material must be developed by long, hard hours of daily practice.

A player who has to earn all or part of his way through school must devote to football the time he otherwise could devote to earning money on a "real" job—so he either has to accept help or "pay" of some sort, or turn in his suit. So an alumnus may slip him board and tuition and spending money under the table—or perhaps he is put on salary for keeping an eight-day clock wound.

It is the under-the-table aspect that is the degrading feature. And if amateurism is dead on the campus, it is the Old Grads and the rest of the fans who pack great stadiums and fill school coffers who have killed it—and certainly not the kids who play the game. More is demanded of them, in time and energy, than they can afford to give away. Let's accept the situation as it is—or change it if it should be changed—but meanwhile let's have done with cant and double-talk about it!

Senator Knowland To Address GOP Dinner In His Honor Next Tuesday

The Honorable William F. Knowland, United States Senator for California, will address the GOP dinner in his honor on "American Foreign Policy and Its Impact On Our Domestic Economy," according to a letter received from Washington by Harry C. Miner, of Menlo Park, Chairman of the San Mateo County Republican Assembly.

The dinner, which will be held Tuesday evening, November 6, at 7:30 at the Oyster Loaf in Belmont, will be the first visit of the senator to this area in a long while.

Reservations for the dinner have been sold out for over a week according to Mr. Miner. Among the dignitaries who will attend the dinner are Assemblyman and Mrs. Richard Dolwig, National Committeewoman Mrs. H. H. Benedict of Berkeley, and Mr. Benedict; and Mrs. Joseph J. Pausner, of San Mateo, State chairman of Pro-America, and Mr. Pausner. Senator Knowland is a native of northern California, attending public schools in Alameda county and the University of California. His wife is the former Helen Herrick and he and Mrs. Knowland have three children. He served both as a member of the California States Assembly and Senate before World War II. He was also national committeeman at that time.

Senator Knowland was inducted into the Army in 1942 serving first as an enlisted man and then as an officer. He saw duty overseas in England, France, Belgium, and Germany. On August 14, 1945, while still serving overseas, Knowland was notified that Governor Earl Warren had appointed him United States Senator to succeed the late Hiram W. Johnson. He took his oath of office on September 5, 1945.

On November 5, 1946, Senator Knowland, who had won the GOP nomination on the state primaries, was elected to the Senate for the full six year term beginning January 3, 1947. He also won the short term election for the term ending January 3, 1947.

In the 81st and 82nd Congresses Senator Knowland is a member of the standing committee on appropriations and the committee on armed services. He has been a consistent supporter of General Douglas McArthur's far Eastern Policy. Knowland is also a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. This committee is the body for liaison between both houses of Congress and the Atomic Energy Commission.

California's Tax Bill Last Year Equal To 46 Counties Assessed Value

Last year's $5.6 billion tax bill on Californians is equal to the current assessed value of taxable property of forty-six of the state's fifty-eight counties, California Taxpayers' association said today. Lion's share of the tax bill is federal—about $3.5 billion.

State taxes for last year topped $1 billion. Local taxes—counties, cities, schools and special districts—reached almost $1 billion.

The assessed value of every California county except twelve—San Diego, Orange, Los Angeles, Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, San Francisco, Marin, and Sonoma—if we started at the eastern boundary, would be "blacked out" to pay last year's federal, state, and local tax bill, the Taxpayers' organization said.

Some governments are doing better than others in economy and efficiency, but there's not a single governmental unit that cannot do better—cannot budget the taxpayers' dollar more carefully, so that the tax bill can be held down.

"It's true," the association said, "but eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

If taxes are to be held within bounds, the people must see that government spending is held within bounds, the association declared.

Consolidation Of County School Districts Is Meeting Subject

The problem of school consolidation and its tax savings advantages will be discussed Thursday night, November 1, at 8 p.m. by the Advisory Council of the San Mateo County Property Owners Association, Inc.

The meeting will take place in the Choral Room at Sequoia High School.

Proctor Jones, chairman of the evening, announced that James R. Torney and members of his staff will be present to confer with the Council.

Jones said that this was the first of a series of public meetings which the association would sponsor in connection with the problem of consolidating San Mateo county's many school districts.

"Our committee," Jones claimed, "will study the situation and then make appropriate recommendations. At the present time we have no opinion one way or the other on the subject except that apparently there is a problem."

He pointed out that consolidation might actually cost more in tax dollars but provide a higher grade of educational supervision. If this is proved to be the case, he said we would do what we could to put the facts before the public and proceed to take such action as the majority of our group decides.

The meeting will be an informal conference opened to the general public during which Mr. Torney and his staff will outline in considerable detail the problems involved in so far as they effect San Mateo county.

Mervin L. Steinberg of Atherton is president of the association.

Depending on locality, the mountain lion is often called cougar, puma, panther, painter, and catamount.

CITY TRAFFIC SNARL

The efficient movement of city traffic requires the cooperation of all drivers, says the California State Automobile Association. For instance, one car parked in a NO PARKING zone during rush hours can delay a whole stream of traffic and cause a serious traffic jam. Don't be the one who is thoughtless enough to cause trouble for others.

Narcotics Will Be Discussion Topic

Use and sale of narcotics to juveniles will be discussed at a regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Jefferson Union high school, Thursday evening, November 8, at 8 p.m. at the high school.

Supplementing the discussion a film on the same subject will be shown. All parents of high school students are urged to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion of this problem. Mrs. Ann Eason is director of the program.

A social hour follows the discussion and film.

The executive board of the association is scheduled to meet today at the home of Mrs. Wanda Michelsen, 549 Hanover street. Plans for the coming holiday activities will be formulated. Also there will be a discussion on the Jefferson district co-ordinating board.

Significant Statements by Interesting Californians

MRS. MARGARET BURMAN, Mill Valley clubwoman—"This is the time of year when college football players send their parents an allowance every month."

M. S. RUKEYSER, economics columnist, in S. F.—"There may not be much respect in the Kremlin for our State Department—but there certainly is respect for our capacity to make things."

N. BRADFORD TRENHAM, L. A., Calif. Taxpayers Ass'n official—"The main things people want are reduction in taxes and the cost of living—and these have come to be practically the same thing."

VICTOR MATURE, Hollywood actor—"There is only one thing amiss in my marriage. My wife does understand me!"

TAY BROWN, San Diego Navy football coach—"I'm for platoon football and free substitutions to reduce injuries. The more tired a player is, the more apt he is to get hurt."

COMMUNITY CHEST WORKERS NEEDED

Community Chest workers are still needed to canvass the following Daly City streets:

Hanover, Peoria, Bellevue, Evergreen, Frankfurt, Roosevelt, Partridge, Guntenberg, Mar Vista, Edgeman and Lowell.

If you live in the vicinity of any of these streets, and wish to help the fund drive, please call PLaza 5-6325.

Recollection Day Slated Sunday

Catholic Daughters of America of the San Francisco Archdiocese will hold their fifth annual Day of Recollection on Sunday, November 4, at the San Francisco College for Women, Lone Mountain, which may be reached by bus no. 31 on Eddy street, San Francisco.

Reverend Francis A. Quinn, Chaplain of Sacred Heart high school will be Moderator, according to Mrs. Charles C. Molitor, Oakland, State Chairman Share-the-Faith. Mass at 9 o'clock will begin the day, which is being dedicated to the memory of deceased members.

Mrs. Tim Maloney, State Regent, Catholic Daughters of America, stated that members from thirty-one Courts in the San Francisco Archdiocese will attend this Retreat, and non-members are invited to attend, as the Share-the-Faith program is one of the branches of their National aims and purposes which stress "Share the Faith by Keeping It."

District Officer Speaks To Lions

Guest speaker at the weekly Daly City-Colma Lions club luncheon was Maurice Perstein, chairman of Inter-club relations of District 4-B-2, who spoke on the organization and system of Lion clubs in the country.

Ladies week was moved to next Wednesday, when Mr. Leslie Olsen, district governor of the North Counties Lions clubs, will be the guest speaker.

In order to raise money for the Lions' welfare fund, a 1951 Cadillac, a 20 inch Hoffman television set, and a 7 1/2 cubic foot deep freeze will be given away on December 29 by the county Lions clubs.

Auxiliary Will Hold Initiation

Members of the Broadmoor American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 824 will conduct their own initiation of new members at their meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Broadmoor Community Center. The public is invited.

At a recent social meeting of the organization, pillow slips were painted for the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital gift shop. Also the following den mothers of Cub Scout Pack No. 84 were entertained as special guests: Mrs. Adelaide Mattison, Mrs. Helen Avanzino and Mrs. Marian Spry.

SNOW SEASON MAKES CHAINS NECESSARY

With snow season soon to be in full swing again the National Automobile Club reminds all motorists not to drive into the mountain areas from now until late spring without proper tire chains. Sudden snow flurries can run through the mountains any time now and tire chains are a necessary part of safety equipment.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

We are at war with the birds. Until last Saturday we felt a certain ignorant fondness for the feathered creatures, but then we planted a large plot of grass, and our attitude noticeably changed from mild distaste to a desire for murder.

Comparing our neurotic symptoms with other victims of grass seed hungry winged life, we find ourselves not alone in our death wishes for the sparrows, robins, and other fluttering monsters of the upper regions. No one who has broken ground for new grass would not love to break the neck of every bird in the universe.

Previous to scattering grass seed over our back yard we had no truck with birds. We figured to let them go their way, and we would go ours. The birds had different ideas.

Dicky Bird No sooner was the last seed rolled firmly into place when a twittering, bold dicky bird sneaked in for a pancake landing. Our moment of labor over, we accepted his presence as befitting the scene of a peasant who has completed tilling his field. After all, one bird can hold just so much grass seed, and a rapid tour of duty with our slide rule convinced us the grass wouldn't be damaged by his presence.

This benevolent reasoning soon backfired. Our back turned, the dicky bird multiplied himself into a tribe of twittering, pecking warblers. Where there had been one, now there were a hundred. It didn't take a multiplication table to spell out disaster for our dreams of a green lawn. Those fool birds spelled nothing but seven bucks of grass seed going to pot...or more correctly, to the birds.

War Cry With a prolonged war cry and a hand full of pebbles we put mother nature's little vultures to wing. But they didn't go far. And as we were carefully raking up the pebbles we had just thrown, squads of the songsters dive-bombed an unprotected portion of the yard. We turned in time to see them gayly rooting up what our crazed mind imagined to be pounds of grass seed.

A rake, not too well aimed, scattered the miniature buzzards. The rake, also, took up about two feet of the yard.

And so it went. We screamed, we madly flailed our arms, threw everything in sight, but nothing prevailed. The more determined our actions, the more determined the birds to cheat us of our grass seed. Nothing frightened them, not even a small bomb, left over from July 4, which we set off under a nearby tree. Slowly it sank into our maddened mind...birds are violent, sadistic and completely beyond fear.

Hatred Fortunately, darkness soon descended, and the birds saw fit to hit the sack. Or perhaps they were so full of seed they could see no reason to haunt us any longer.

Tired, slightly insane, and full of hate we retired from the field of grass seed. We thought to return on the morrow to protect our own, but came the dawn, not a bird was in sight. By noon, still no birds. We left the house for five minutes. Upon our return the yard was alive with feathered festers.

The impulse to kill, they say, occurs in many forms and disguises. We, then, must be a simple case. We have no form, or disguise, but only an abiding hatred of birds. Next week we plan to buy a dozen cats and set them loose in the yard. Should this fail, we will purchase a shotgun.

And yet, the act of murder appears to have no finality. We are certain as long as one grass seed remains in that yard there will be one bird to wing in through the bushes, dodge the cats, and pick it up.

Birds don't die, they simply eat, and eat, and eat away.

Jefferson Play

Residents Given Opportunity To Get Front Row Seats For "Murder"

Tickets for "A Murder Has Been Arranged" are now on sale at Lee's Pharmacy, in Daly City, at The Anchor Drug in Colma and at Jefferson high school.

The students of JUHS are presenting this mystery thriller on November 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Miss Eunice Seaton is directing it.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" was written by Emlyn Williams who is no stranger to the threatening public of this country and England. In addition to many other plays he wrote "The Corn Is Green," and he has achieved considerable success as a director and actor. Recently Mr. Williams made his Hollywood motion picture debut as an actor.

This mystery, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," is unique in that the story takes place on the stage of the theatre on the night on which you see it—not at a previous time but "now." Sir Charles Jasper who is something of an authority on the occult and the legends of magic about the city of London is giving a dinner party in honor of his 40th birthday at which time he inherits two million pounds.

Dinner Party Sir Charles decides to give his party on the stage of the St. James theatre because according to legend, if anyone is murdered in this theatre, within ten days a dumb woman will recover her speech and the ghost of the murdered person will walk on the stage. When the play opens it has been ten days since a man was murdered in the theatre and Sir Charles is anxiously anticipating the appearance of the ghost before midnight. Before the end of the play another murder occurs on the stage before the audience and the ghost walks!

The part of Sir Charles, a mild mannered man, is played by Basil Beeson, and Shirley Raser will portray his very pretty and charming wife, Lady Beatrice. Mrs. Arthur, who is Lady Beatrice's mother and a very domineering woman will be done by Sharon Girard. The able and efficient secretary to Sir Charles, Miss Groze, will be played by Janice Sproutle, while the practical Mrs. Wragg, a cockney, will be taken by Shaula Crosson.

Perfect Crime Maurice Mullins considers himself to be the perfect criminal and brags about it. He will be played by Ronald Christensen and Frank Garcia will play Jimmy North, a naive young American. Adele Hansen takes the part of the dumb woman and Ronnie Harris will be Mr. Cavendish, the band leader. Because the high school students are being urged to attend on Friday night, Miss Seaton suggests that adults try to attend on Thurs. nite.

Get your tickets at Lee's Pharmacy or at Anchor Drug.

700 OLDSTERS ENJOY C.D.A. SHOW

Given a wide variety of entertainment, 700 old folks at the Laguna Honda Home in San Francisco showed their enthusiasm at last Thursday evening's performance by inviting Court St. Mary to return in the near future.

After the completion of the program, Father Lawrence R. Lindsay, O.P., resident chaplain of the home, was presented with two large boxes of religious articles, to be distributed among the Catholic residents. Grand Regent of the Court, Mrs. R. J. Ennis, made the presentation.

Many thanks are extended from Court St. Mary, to all those who participated in the program.

Dorothy Davis

Dear Dorothy:

I am 16 and have several boy friends at the school who would like to take me out or visit my home. I have no father and my mother works nights. She sleeps until late hours in the evening and is very firm about me being home after dark.

I can't go out evenings because I must be home before dark and I cannot have company at home because I'm afraid to disturb my mother's sleep. I am gradually losing my friends and I wonder if you could help me with my problem?

Troubled

Dear "Troubled": Your entire problem hinges on an understanding of your mother's concern for you. She would be greatly disturbed at her work if she were not certain that her teen-age daughter was safe at home. And in order to insure this, she feels that she has to be extremely firm in insisting that you do not stay out after dark.

A solution of your problem would be to convince your mother by acts of thoughtfulness and help that you are attaining maturity and can be trusted to be in at a reasonable hour, if you are permitted to have dates in the evenings.

You are far too young yet to form any kind of a permanent attachment for any of your school boy friends and so, if, knowing the circumstances, they are not content with dates on Saturdays, Sundays and after school, they are not worth causing your mother worry. While this advice may seem hard, remember it is no fun for your mother to be working nights to support herself and you, either, and by cooperating with her in every way possible, you will prove to her and to yourself also that she can be more lenient in your dating hours.

Dear Dorothy:

I am a bachelor pushing 30. My friends tell me I am good looking and have a nice disposition and that I would make a good husband for some girl, and that I should settle down and get married. I'd like to get married and have a home of my own, too, but I am not in love with any girl.

There are several nice girls working in the office where I work and I know they would marry me. Should I marry one of them or wait, hoping that some girl will come along that I will fall in love with?

Undecided.

Dear "Undecided": In your present state of mind you are far too much in love with yourself to make any girl a good husband. If you would stop thinking so much about your own good qualities and become more interested in the young women about you, you might find yourself falling in love.

Also, get the thought of an immediate marriage out of your mind. Take out these girls you know solely for the purpose of enjoying their companionship, and let the serious romance angle develop of its own accord. A truly happy marriage is never based on anything but love, and love has to grow out of companionship.

Dear Dorothy:

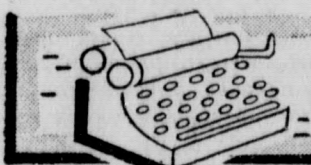

I think I am the most unhappy person on earth. About three months ago I met a young man at a party and figured that he was what I had been looking for all my life. I went around in a daze for about two weeks thinking only of him and how wonderful he was.

After three dates, we eloped. After we were married he turned out to be an entirely different person from what I thought he was. He has a terrible temper and can't hang onto a job so that I have to support us both. I am a file clerk in an insurance office. I can't divorce him because if I do I will lose my inheritance. I have a grandmother who has a lot of money and she has made me her only heir. She does not believe in divorce no matter how awful my marriage is. She says that in her day men and women stuck together no matter how hard it was. I know she means what she says and that she will cut me out of her will if I get a divorce. I don't want to lose all that money and yet my marriage is so hopeless. I don't know what to do. Please help me.

Very Unhappy

Dear "Very Unhappy": You have shown incredible stupidity by permitting your romantic day dreams to jeopardize your entire life in this manner. Without troubling to discover the real personality of this man you met, you immediately went to work and pinned on him the characteristics of the type of person you wanted him to be. Then you even went so far as to marry him, still deluding yourself that he was the individual you wanted him to be, rather than the person he actually was. No matter what the circumstances, it is impossible within a short time to get to know anyone well enough to enter into such a serious step as marriage. You must have found something in this young man that attracted you to him enough to make you pin your sentimental ideals on him, and, therefore, instead of feeling sorry for yourself that he does not measure up to impossible standards, why not get to know him as he really is. You may like him. His temper and instability may be due to the fact that he realizes that you married him, not for himself, but because you thought him an entirely different person. Get acquainted with him and learn to like him for himself and maybe in this way, all your troubles will be solved. Remember that he is a human being just as capable of being hurt as you are, and that he, also, is a victim of your stupidity.

RECORD ECHOES

20 YEARS AGO

IN THE RECORD

The Daly City Merchants held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday night and re-elected incumbent officers for the ensuing term. It was decided to give a free dance in the city auditorium some time in December. The following officers were re-elected: president, A. Vireno; vice-president, P. Pavlos; secretary, W. H. Clay; financial secretary-treasurer, J. J. Fahey; sergeant-at-arms, S. Plansky.

Next Sunday members of the Daly City Post No. 410, American Legion, will be able to resume their horseshoe games at the Daly City Park. Due to the grading work in progress at the park, it was found necessary to postpone practicing for the last two weeks.

The senior class at the Jefferson Union high school is exerting itself to the limit in trying to raise enough money to publish an annual this year.

VILLAGE NOTES

BROADMOOR, GARDEN VILLAGE, COLMA
by
Mrs. Mark Swoverland
PLaza 5-4158

Hi there. Birthday parties galore, so let us make haste to tell of them.

MADDOX STREET

Little Paula Baumgartner celebrated her third birthday last Saturday. Attending were: Violet Ann Polites, cousins Dorothy and Terry Fowers, Arlene D'Arcy, Ricky and Michael Corso, Dickie Esposta, Susan and Jimmy Helmer, Cookie, Donald, and Kristine Mitchell, Sally Ann Simola, Clifford and Ralph Box. The mothers of the children were also present.

GARDEN VILLAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Collins of San Marino were recent house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Sunderman.

HERE AND THERE

Hear tell the village churchmen are going to sell Christmas trees up on Junipero Serra this year. Keep it in mind.

The scouts will hold their court of honor Friday November 2, at the Broadmoor Community Center. Scout Master Charles R. Flansburg urges all parents to attend. Refreshments will be served and the boys will receive their awards.

A group of women had a sewing social at the home of Mrs. Denham. Attending were Mrs. Tom

Local Librarian Notes Birthday

An informal birthday party was held here Tuesday for Mrs. Marcia Trier, Daly City librarian.

The party was given the day after Mrs. Trier's birthday, October 30, by a group of friends and city employees.

Among the guests present were Mrs. Dolly Bogio and Mrs. Evelyn Mossman.

Although the traditional cake was featured at the party, the number of candles thereon was held to 21.

"While I may be a few years older than 21, I feel no older," Mrs. Trier said.

And friends agree, her statement was befitting the occasion.

Bricker Brothers Join VFW Post

Two brothers, both Marines and from Daly City, this week joined the Edmund Parrott Chapter No. 16, VFW.

They are: Leo and James Bricker, 313 Peoria street.

Leo is presently with the First Marine Division in Korea, and is back on the front lines following a wound he suffered in action last month.

James, who is up for discharge from the Marines next May, was wounded in Korea earlier this year. He is presently stationed at the Naval Air Station in Alameda.

General Pershing PTA Plans White Elephant Auction

Parents Requested
To Donate Items

Plans for a white elephant auction, was decided upon by the members of the General Pershing PTA executive board at the last meeting, Thursday, October 25.

Any items that parents may have on hand, they would like to dispose of, may be brought to school to be auctioned November 7.

Mrs. Mildred Whinnen was appointed safety chairman and Mrs. Jack Caine, Room Mother for Mrs. Farmers' class.

Due to the success of the last hot dog sale, as reported by Mrs. W. H. Derham, treasurer, another hot dog sale will be held at the school November 7. Mrs. O. Sciaroni, corresponding chairman, will be in charge.

The regular meeting of the PTA will be held Tuesday, November 7.

Personality Dolls To Be Featured At PTA Bazaar

"Personality" rag dolls will be featured at the Sheridan PTA bazaar to be held on December 6 at the Ocean View Community Church, 144 Broad street.

Mrs. Ezra Chase and the ways and means committee have been working steadily since summer vacation on these delightful dolls and other novelties. The dolls come in 10 and 15 inch sizes, some in boy and girl sets and all with removable clothing, so they may be dressed and undressed. Beautiful natural looking hair which may be set and curled, varied facial expressions and coloring all contribute towards giving each doll a charming and distinctive "personality."

A variety of handmade articles will be on sale at reasonable prices at the Bazaar. PTA members and their friends are urged to keep this date in mind. This should also prove to be an excellent opportunity for Christmas shoppers.

Homecoming Proves Great Success

Many of the former students at San Mateo Junior College returned to the Homecoming activities last weekend.

Some came to the open house to meet their former instructors and to view the three campuses by daylight; some attended the Hawaiian Festival program where they were entertained by a program sponsored largely by the Hawaiian students in the college.

In the evening, the group attended the Homecoming dinner at Coyote Point. Dean Harold Taggart called upon many of the alumni to speak briefly about their days in college. Later the alumni attended the dance arranged in their honor.

San Mateo lost the Homecoming game to City College of San Francisco 41-6, Saturday evening, and this week takes on Santa Rosa Saturday afternoon at two o'clock on the San Mateo high school field. Last year Santa Rosa was a powerhouse in league play.

Monday evening the Peninsula UNESCO forum will meet at 7:30 in the Baldwin campus auditorium to hear a lecture on American ideals and foreign policies. The meeting is open to the public.

was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Contreras. Attending were Mrs. Irene Parks, Mrs. Sheila Mahoney, Mrs. Betty Arthen, Mrs. Doris Menary, Mrs. Pearl Harris, Mrs. Marion Polites, and Mrs. Betty Hart.

Little Susan Cress, whose birthday is in October, and Robert Cress, whose birthday is in November, decided to celebrate their birthdays right, so they had a combination double birthday and Halloween party.

Attending were: Billy and Mary Parks, Kitty Lagoria, Irene Areja, Marsha and Malinda Hart, Tommy Reynolds, Sanora Williams, David Sintoni, Trevor and Allison Benedict, Susie Williams, Diana, Peter, and Bruce Helmer, Ingrid Gicsecke, Barry and Nancy Waugaman.

Pamela Barca celebrated her second birthday Friday. Those attending were David and Bonnie Barca, Judy and Betty Josephs, Christine (VanDerslice), Sandy Beckendorf, Marsha and Malinda Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benedict recently returned from Bagota, Columbia.

So long for now...

PTA Conclave

COORDINATING COMMITTEE STARTED

HERE ARE THE REPRESENTATIVES of five local Parent-Teacher associations who met to form a coordinating committee which will assist all PTA members. Standing in the back row, from left to right are: Stanford Hannah, Mrs. Hugh Falconer, Mrs. A. W. Lauffenburger, Mrs. Larry Green, Mrs. T. M. Millen, Mrs. Howard Dunbar, Mrs. Fred Kruse, Mrs. Kenneth Meitz, Mrs. A. Vranich, Mrs. C. Caruthers and H. Z. Weibel. Seated are, from left to right: Mrs. Robert Franklin, Mrs. J. M. Foley, Mrs. G. J. Sirex, Mrs. Eleanor Zenovich, Mrs. Ethel B. Hahn, Miss Marjorie Tobias and Miss Aileen Suber. (Photo by Plymouth Pictures)

"Children come first"—and in one more move in their ever-active betterment campaign for the children of the area, the representatives of five Parent-Teacher Associations met to form a Coordinating Committee, to be used by all members.

Held at the home of Mrs. Hugh S. Falconer on October 29, this meeting was the first of a series which will serve to bring the problems of the area before all units simultaneously, through their elected delegates to the Committee. This Committee, patterned in some measure after a similar organization in the San Carlos schools, has as two of its purposes the studying of recommendations from school personnel to Parent-Teacher Units, and acting as a clearing-house for dates of the various units' socials and money-raising projects to be held during the year. The need for an organization of this kind has been keenly felt in the past.

Chairman

Mrs. A. Vranich, First Vice-President, Crocker Unit, was requested to assume the post of Chairman, as called for in the Proposed Policies and Procedures, at next meeting. Mrs. Larry Green, Secretary of the James L. Snell Unit, was requested to act as temporary secretary for the time being.

On hand to give the benefit of their vast experience in the 17th District were Mrs. G. J. Sirex, President, 17th District, and Mrs. J. M. Foley, Parliamentarian, 17th District.

Mrs. Raymond Duste announced that a Red Cross Mobile Unit would be available on November 20 at the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian Church to secure blood donations, and asked the cooperation of the units to make this drive a success. She asked that the Health and Welfare Chairmen of the various units attend an organizational meeting to be held at her home on November 5.

Christmas Program

As one of its first decisions, the committee decided to place the $95.29 balance of Christmas Welfare Program, 1950, in a welfare fund for the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts, to be used by the school nurse as she sees fit.

After due deliberation, a set of Policies and Procedures was decided on to be submitted to individual units for approval.

In addition to the aforementioned district officers, the following were present: Mr. Stanford Hannah, superintendent, Jefferson Union high school district; Mr. H. Z. Weibel, superintendent, Jefferson Elementary school district; Miss Aileen Suber, principal, Garden Village school; Mrs. Eleanor Zenovich, principal, Westlake school; Miss Marjorie Tobias, principal, Colma school; Mrs. T. M. Millen, president, Crocker PTA; Mrs. A. Vranich, 1st vice-president, Crocker PTA.

Also Present

Mrs. Elsie Prisco, president, General Pershing PTA; Mrs. Muriel Keith, 1st vice president, General Pershing PTA; Mrs. A. Lauffenburger, delegate, General Pershing PTA; Mrs. Hugh S. Falconer, president, James L. Snell PTA and representative of the Jefferson Union high school PTA; Mrs. Kenneth Meitz, 1st vice president of James L. Snell PTA; Mrs. Larry Green, secretary, James L.

Girl Scouts Here Take Part In Activities Of Girl Scout Week

Highlight of girl scout week for the Daly City-Colma girl scouts will be the celebration scheduled for Friday night beginning at 7:30 at the Jefferson Union high school Little Theatre.

The celebration takes the form of a reunion and recognition of all adults who have been active in scouting. All adults who have participated in the girl scout program are cordially invited.

Inaugurating girl scout week here, girls from the local council attended services Sunday in separate groups at St. Francis Episcopal Church, Grace Presbyterian church and at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

Monday, the girls commemorated homemaker day; Tuesday, citizenship day; Wednesday, health and safety day; Thursday, international friendship day. Friday will be arts and crafts Day and Saturday, out-of-doors day.

Girls of the Broadmoor-Colma neighborhood are displaying girl scout uniforms in the windows of Leslie's Dress Shop and Weitzel's Shoe store as a reminder of the objectives of scouting. These are to develop girls into physically, mentally and socially healthy individuals who will become helpful members of society.

Each month the boys pay a visit to the hospital wards and entertain the veterans with a variety of music. Hospital officials report the band has done their patients a "great deal of good."

Teachers Assn. Holds Reception

The Homemaking Room at Thornton School was the scene of the Teacher's Association annual reception on Thursday evening, October 18.

The room was very colorful with decorations of autumn leaves and arrangements of Fall fruits and vegetables. A buffet supper was served to over seventy-five guests.

Honored guests of the evening were Superintendent H. Z. Weibel and Mrs. Weibel; Mr. and Mrs. Cheatham, Mr. and Mrs. Callan, and Mr. and Mrs. Van der Werff.

Beth Calvin Elected To College Post

Miss Beth A. Calvin of Daly City was elected vice-president of the senior class at San Jose State College last week.

Miss Calvin, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Calvin of Daly City, is a senior interior decoration major at SJSU.

Local Band Entertains Vets

A group of local musicians—The Gay-Chorders—are offering many hours of entertainment to veterans in the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital.

The band is composed of Daly City men, and is headed by Joseph Lewkowicz. Formerly it was known as the Daly City Cowboy band.

Each month the boys pay a visit to the hospital wards and entertain the veterans with a variety of music. Hospital officials report the band has done their patients a "great deal of good."

With Christmas less than seven weeks from the date of the Bazaar, the Christmas Booth should be a popular center of activity. Mrs. Lamont Sundman, chairman of the booth, says there will be adorable little Santa and ornaments to hang on the tree, lovely candles of different shapes and sizes, Christmas cards and stationery, gifts, and delicious fruit cakes.

If you like plants in your home, the Garden Booth will draw your attention and applause. Little Mrs. Vesey are the hostesses.

Divine worship services are held every Sunday morning at 8:30 and 11 o'clock. Sunday school and Bible classes are at 9:45 a.m.

The church is located on the corner of Garfield & Juniper boulevard. Rev. Robert G. Konzelman, B.D., is the pastor, and he will gladly give further information about this growing church by phoning JU. 4-8501 or JU. 4-0293.

Cowardice Is Topic Of Tuesday Talk

The Ladies Guild of the Lutheran Church of Our Savior will meet at the church on Tuesday, November 6, at 8 p.m.

The program will include a talk by Pastor Konzelman on "Cowardice and Courage." Mrs. Rick and

Anniversary Festival Will Be Celebrated At Local Church Nov. 16

Festivities of many varieties have been arranged by women of the Grace Presbyterian church for the all day commemoration on November 16 of the first anniversary of the moving of the church congregation to its new church home at the corner of Crocker and Winchester streets.

The large variety of attractions, taking place at the church, have been planned with a view of having something of interest for each member of the family.

The Ladies Aid society under the chairmanship of Mrs. Janet Turner, will feature a country store project. There will be home baking booths, aprons, linens and towels.

Christmas cards and novelties, a white elephant counter and a grab bag are other items which will comprise part of this all day celebration, the grab bag being in charge of Mrs. Alice Nagle.

One of the main attractions will be a huge birthday cake made by Mr. and Mrs. P. Lindstrom.

There will be movies for the children.

A cafeteria lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Mildred Anker in charge. A big birthday dinner will be served beginning at 5 p.m.

The public is cordially invited.

After The Bell

Jefferson High School Activities Really Begin After Formal Class Work

The end of formal class work is not the end of the day at Jefferson Union High school. This we learned the other day in a quick tour of the campus after classes were dismissed.

In and around the swimming pool some fifty or sixty girls and boys were practicing for the aquacade to be given November 29 and 30 and December 1. Three women physical education teachers, Marjorie Erickson, Virginia Parent and Mary Newslinger, were supervising the rehearsal.

We took a walk out to the football field and found two large squads at practice. Coaches Joe McGrath and Ernie Ribera were working with nearly fifty young athletes on the frosh-soph team. "They're full of spirit and anxious to learn," commented coach McGrath. Watching the boys a while we could see a bright future for Jefferson football.

Nearby coaches Glenn South and Clarence Lair were trying to instill football know-how and more fighting spirit into a varsity squad of over forty. The team lacks speed but will make a good record for the season if every player will get "fired up" for each game.

San Francisco Symphony Season Opens November 15 With Samuel Lipman

The San Francisco Symphony Orchestra's 16-week season opens in the War Memorial Opera House on Thursday night, November 15, with Samuel Lipman as the featured soloist.

Pierre Monteux, serving with the orchestra for his 17th and final year, will conduct all but three of the concerts. Guest conductors this year are Sir Thomas Beecham, Charles Munch and Massimo Freccia.

Monteux announced his resignation as conductor of the famous orchestra last month, explaining he wished more time to devote to his school of conducting in Maine, and to appear as guest conductor with other world famous orchestras.

Monteux has developed the local musical group into one of the finest symphony orchestras in the world.

EAGLES WILL HOLD COSTUME PARTY

Fun and surprises are in store for members of the Colma Vista Grande Aerie and Auxiliary No. 1848, Fraternal Order of Eagles, at their costume dance Saturday evening at 8:30, at the Eagles Halls.

The function is a benefit for the Damon Runyon cancer fund. Those attending are asked to appear in costume.

PTA EXECUTIVE BOARD TO MEET

Further plans for Sheridan PTA's hospital project and also for the coming Bazaar will be the major items for discussion at the next executive board meeting to be held Wednesday, November 7, at 9:30 a.m. at the school.

Colma PTA Plans 19th Birthday Party Tuesday

The Colma PTA is celebrating its 19th birthday on Tuesday evening, November 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the Colma Community Center on Dunk street off Washington.

All the charter members and past presidents of the Colma PTA will be the honored guests of the evening.

An interesting program is planned after the regular business meeting. Mrs. G. J. Sirex, 17th District President, will bring us a timely message on "The Home—The First Business of Parents," which will emphasize the unit's November theme—"Where Happy Homes Abound."

Mrs. Jack Clayton and her efficient hospitality committee will serve birthday refreshments after the meeting. All are invited.

The Colma PTA membership drive is nearing its end. There is still time to send in your dues and be "One of a Million." Contact Mrs. Edward J. Dennis, membership chairman, PLaza 5-6277, or join at the meeting.

The Colma PTA is being given the opportunity of answering the urgent appeal for blood donors throughout the month of November. Below is a schedule of dates when the mobile unit will be in outlying areas and when blood for the armed forces will be taken at the blood bank, 25 South El Camino Real.

Other appointments may be made by telephoning Red Cross Headquarters, DIamond 3-4561. Tuesday and Fridays: Nov. 6—Belmont Nov. 9—San Mateo Nov. 13—Sequoia Nov. 16—Millbrae Nov. 23—Sequoia Nov. 27—Lindenville Nov. 30—San Mateo

Monday, Wednesdays and Thursdays at the Blood Bank, 25 South El Camino Real: Monday—3-6 p.m. Wednesday—9-12 Noon Thursday—3-6:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in giving a pint of his or her blood to save a life, please do so now. The need is urgent.

Cub Pack 63 Gives Awards

Many Pins Presented Hard Working Cubs

Awards for achievement recognition were presented at the regular monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 63, held at Bellevue Hall, last Friday.

The flag raising ceremony was performed by Den No. 2. Movies of wild life and marine life comprised the entertainment at the meeting which was attended by a large number of parents.

Bobcat pins were presented to Allen Cunningham and James Caruso; the wolf badge to Allen Cunningham; the bear badge to John Vinal, Don Cubic and Steven Lyon; gold arrows to Roy Cavallini, John Vinal, Lynn Atteberry and Don Aicardi.

Silver arrows to Maurice Bradshaw, Don Aicardi and Michael Crystal; identification cards to James Bradshaw and William Hickey; year pins to Robert Davies, Bill Schroeder, James Keefe, Don Cubic, Lynn Atteberry, Raymond Brandon and Lynn Anderson.

Denner's Stripes to Maurice Bradshaw, Russell Budde, Don Cubic, Bob Galli and Stephen Hansen; assistant denner's stripes to Jack Klassen, Lynn Atteberry, John Vefial and Bill Hickey.

Fifty years ago the source of yellow fever was reported by Dr. Walter Reed's Army Commission as the Stegomyia mosquito (February 4, 1900.)

Mrs. Irene Maloney Sportswomen Head

By MRS. E. K. WHINNEN

At the recent meeting of the Daly City Sportswomen, Irene Maloney won the very close race for president of the Sportswomen. Leonora O'Neill lost to Irene by one vote.

Laurien Fox remains as vice president and Jo Flansburg will be secretary-treasurer.

The installation dinner will be a joint affair with the Daly City Rod and Gun Club, and will be held at Lovchen Gardens, Wednesday night, November 14.

Out at District Council No. 7 elections were held too, and the following people will guide the destinies of the Associated Sportsmen in this area: President Harold Purser, of the Daly City Rod and Gun. Harold was vice-president last year. Vice-President Hal Pearlman, out-going president of the Daly City Rod and Gun Club. Secretary Frank Sargent, of the El Camino Club, and sports fishing boat owner and skipper, Anna Van Dyne, of the San Francisco Sportswomen. Sargent-at-arms, Roy Caravantes of the Daly City Rod and Gun.

All top people, but they have something to shoot at in the record Jimmy Fox, out-going president of District Council No. 7, hung up for this year. Good luck, Purser, and fellow officers.

Board Members Members of the board, voted in at the last meeting, can hold their own, too. Here they are: Jimmy Fox, Ken Mercer, Harry Lorentz, John Reine, and Ray De Bono.

Lake Merced Patrol gave their interesting and sometimes amusing report of happenings around the lake. Here it is for your edification or education, as may be: Retrieved rod and reel for man who dropped it over board from a boat. Killed shag with eight small bullets in it. Man fell off raft, ha, ha, (writer amused). Boy fell in but got out under own power. Man training dog from raft, was stopped. Kid retrieving golf balls from lower end of lake. Said he had a contract to get them from that end of the lake. Patrol informed him his contract had just expired. End of report.

The Associated Sportsmen did very well this year with their legislative program. Much credit is due Dud Lawrence for keeping up District No. 7's end of this program.

Night Shooting Captain Moore, of the reserve wardens, reported much night shooting with spots, this year. Shooting with spots is vastly against the law. Captain Moore also reported 2700 hours of patrol duty had been put in by the reserve wardens in this quarter. Remember that is all donated time, by men who also work to make a living. The Daly City Sportswomen wish to give these men a vote of thanks.

There will be a special meeting of the Daly City Sportswomen Wednesday night, 8 p.m. at the home of Frances Nenstiel, 228 Hillcrest Drive, to choose an installing officer and guest of honor for the installation dinner. Please, Sportswomen, make it a point to be there.

AMERICAN JUNIOR RED CROSS FALL ENROLLMENT OPEN School Children To Assist Servicemen Today marks the opening of the annual fall enrollment of the American Junior Red Cross in San Mateo county schools.

Efforts will be made to give every elementary and secondary school an opportunity to enroll for the calendar year of 1952, according to Mrs. Lionel Clumeck, Junior Red Cross Chairman, of the San Mateo County Red Cross Chapter.

Because of the tense world situation, Mrs. Clumeck said, it is increasingly important that schools be ready to assist in the traditional services of the Red Cross to men in the service and to the community.

Last year the national membership reached a total of 19,334,783 boys and girls in 89,182 private, public and parochial elementary and secondary schools throughout the United States and its territories.

The local Chapter's Junior Red Cross members plan to fill gift boxes for distribution to school children overseas. Two hundred eighty thousand of these boxes, containing school and health supplies and valued at $560,000, were filled throughout the nation last year. Children in San Mateo county chapter filled and shipped 450 of these boxes.

An active interest has been shown by schools in the local chapter area, in the International School Art and Correspondence programs. Last year approximately 5,000 pieces of art and almost 1,000 albums of correspondence were exchanged with some 35 foreign countries.

Local Club Makes Blood Bank Plans

Arrangements for blood donations by members of the Italian-American Citizen Club of Daly City and Colma will be made by Roy Barghini who was named blood bank chairman at a recent meeting of the organization.

Those wishing to cooperate in this worthwhile project are asked to call Mr. Barghini at PL. 5-5658.

Many persons attended the Halloween dance given by the club last Saturday night at Colombo hall in Colma. Music was provided by Don Armando's orchestra.

Those who worked hard on plans for the success of the function were O. Maffei, president of the club; U. Maffei, secretary; Dante Casentini, floor manager; and Barghini, dance chairman. They wish to thank their committee members for their splendid cooperation.

Owner Builds Pens While Chickens Wander

While Ed Sansoni, 258 Edgemar street, was busy building pens for his chickens, those same chickens were occupying themselves with wandering the streets and trespassing on other people's property.

As these activities are making them extremely unpopular, they were reported to Daly City police on Saturday. Officers contacted Sansoni who explained about the pens and also promised that he will make every effort to keep his fowl at home.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

CROCKER SCHOOL

Room 1 The Sixth Grade of Room 1 has been busy making posters for United Nations Week. They are now making a Halloween border for the room.

In Social Science we are studying South America and at present are interested in the west coast countries.

Room 2

The following children in the Fifth Grade, Room 2, had perfect attendance last month: Linda Egger, Carolyn Gardella, Nancy Golden, Arthur Hedvall, James Kreuzer, Loretta Lenzini, Victor Lewkowitz, Theodore Manzanarez, Lind McCowen, Gayle McKee, Paul Meirs, Joan O'Keefe, Terrie Owens, John Schmidt, Anthony Schrader, John Tarango, Albert Taylor, Carol Turney, Barry Van Otten, Larry Waldon, and Barbara Wester.

Room 3

The Fifth Graders in Room 3 observed United Nations Day by singing songs of the various countries. We talked about the fact that many of our songs, folk dances, and stories have been given to us by people from all over the world. The children have also discovered that many of the ideals of the Founding Fathers of our own country have been re-expressed in the charter of the United Nations.

We are learning about the people who made the early settlements on our country, their names, reasons for coming here, and their ways of living.

DEN JOTTINGS

By Louise Daniel

Naming the new baby follows a trend just as anything else. Currently what are Daly City, Colma, Westlake and Broadmoor parents calling the newcomer? First in favor among boys' names is Michael. Then come David, Stephen, Gary and Daniel.

Deborah heads the popularity list of girls' names. Jean, Gail and Ann are next on the list.

Even though these names are first in popularity among parents of the new boys and girls of the community, the time-tested standard names are not neglected. William, Richard, Robert, Edward and John are bestowed on new little boys with frequency. And new little girls are still named Patricia, Diane, Alice and Pamela.

Why is it that sanitation so seldom enters into a youngster's point of view? The other morning coming to work on the bus we sat next to a little boy of about eight years old. He was playing with a tired looking lump of modeling clay of a dingy, greyish color. In explaining its various uses he stated that he also used bits of the same piece of clay for chewing gum. To our horrified exclamation he assured us, "Oh, that's all right. It has no taste to it."

Among the more talented residents of this city is Mrs. Amy Simpson of 78 Hillcrest drive, who is organist at Trinity Methodist church in San Francisco, a position she has held for five years. Mrs. Simpson is an associate in the American Guild of Organist and holds music degrees from the Oberlin Conservatory in Oberlin, Ohio. She is currently taking courses in methods of teaching piano at the University of California Extension at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

If you are one of those women who like to make her own clothes but feels that you can never tell how a dress is going to look on you until you've tried it on, here's a tip. Wait until you have completed the basic part of the garment before you start planning the finishing touches. Then try on the semi-completed attire and see what kind of collar and cuffs are best suited for your particular type on this particular type of clothing.

Follow the same system with buttons and trimmings. You'll be surprised at what a difference it makes in the style of a dress whether you have one kind of buttons or another or whether you put cuffs on the sleeves or just finish them with a bias binding.

Among the articles listed as "Found" on the bulletin board at the main post office at Seventh and Mission streets is a dog collar. As if the postal authorities didn't have enough trouble with having to watch out for the articles lost by human beings, now they have to have careless pooches on their hands, too.

THIEF HALTS LOCAL GARDENING PROJECT

Every time, lately, that Keyte Harper, 315 Bellevue avenue, wants to do any work in his back yard, he finds that the things he needs for this purpose have been stolen.

First it was a 75 foot length of hose that turned up missing on October 24th. Then Sunday he missed a shovel, rake and garden trowel. In reporting the lost articles to Daly City police, Harper stated that everything might have been stolen at the same time.

He also said that there was a vacant lot next to his back yard and that anyone could have gained entrance to the rear of his property by this means.

South Shakes Lineup For San Mateo Contest

Many Starters Destined For Bench On Kickoff Against the Bearcats Friday

Coach Glenn South whisked away all memories of last week's trouncing by Willow Glenn High school and made a big shake up in his starting lineup for Friday's encounter against San Mateo.

Displeased with his first team's performance against Willow Glenn last week, when the Jefferson Indians dropped a 26-6 decision, South indicated that many first stringers would watch the opening kickoff from the bench.

Instead, Coach South will call on second and third stringers who played exceedingly well in the second half of the Willow Glenn contest.

The Mateans, who employ the split-T formation, predominantly feature a running attack, with plays set up to break two fast backs, Lax and Juidry into the clear.

San Jose High, whom the Indians had beat earlier in the season, downed the Bearcats last week, 20-6.

Gene Lorenzo, handles the left end spot Friday, while Harold Hazen, still nursing an injury, will not start.

Pleased with Bob Davis' hard and charging line play, Coach South has assigned him the opening spot at left tackle over Floyd Gonella.

In the center position will be either Richard Cryer or Bill George replacing Bob Murchinson, who was sidelined for the season by injuries.

At left guard, second stringer Jim Jones will take over, with veteran Bob Holtzer breaking into the blocking position in the single wing backfield.

Dave Martinez has been assigned the right guard position, while Stan Davis will start at right tackle replacing Bob Davis who moved to left tackle.

Coach South has dug deep into his lineup coming up with Charles Carroll to handle right end over veterans Joe Lewkowicz and Mac Douglas.

Izzy Galente and Ray Tschirgi, right half and fullback respectively, and the most consistent and hard runners on the squad, are not listed in the lineup changes.

If quarterback Bryan McMahon remains sidelined by injuries, either Russell Patterson or Holtzer will take over.

All in all, Coach South will mix the green among the veterans in facing the Mateans on their home field, with hopes of fielding a hard fighting and spirited club.

Dick Jones, with 15 completed passes in 27 attempts, took his Willow Glenn Rams out of the cellar spot in the PAL, by leading the Rams to a 26-6 upset over the Indians.

Outplayed throughout the first half, Coach South employed his second string in the closing half. The spirited relief men, anxious to make a showing, gained six points while allowing the same, after their first string predecessors had emerged with a halftime 20-0 deficit.

Jones flipped to Rich Price in the first quarter for a 29 yard TD play, and tossed a pass to halfback Bob Gadsy in the third frame for another tally, Gadsy romping 45 yards to paydirt.

Fullback Steve Taravella scored six points on a lineback, and intercepted a Jefferson pass to romp eight yards for another tally.

Rugged Indian fullback Ray Tschirgi capped a drive with a two-yard plunge for the local eleven's only touchdown.

Castlemont Ties Windbreakers, 7-7

The South San Francisco Windbreakers dropped out of the top spot in the Northern California Athletic League today as they tied the Castlemont AC 7 to 7 on Castlemont high school field.

After scoring in the first two minutes of play the Windbreakers were stopped cold by the strong Castlemont squad. The first score came as Aldo DeTomasi, speedy halfback of the Windbreakers, went over from the six yard line standing up. Andy Boido kicked the extra point. Two more times the Windbreakers were in scoring territory in the first half, but the stubborn defense of the Castlemont held. The Castlemont score came in the third period as DeTomasi's quick kick was blocked on the 18 yard line and John Medeiros of the Cavaliers picked it up and ran over the goal line. Warren Albee kicked the extra point. Late in the final period the Windbreakers had another chance as Pedro Jimenez grabbed a fumble by Jack Silva and raced 77 yards to the Castlemont one before being pushed out of bounds. This was to no avail as the Windbreakers were held for three downs. Coach Leo Ferko then summoned Andy Boido and tried for a field goal. Andy's kick was a nice one, but was wide of the uprights by about 1 foot.

Coach Ferko of the Windbreakers blamed a two week lay-off for the bad timing of his offensive team. With this game and four nights of rugged practice, the Windbreakers should be ready for the top team in the league, the San Jose Brewers.

The Defensive team sparked once again as Chuck Killian and Joe Avelar teamed up to set the Cavaliers back for big losses. Bob Engler blocked one punt and Aldo DeTomasi intercepted a Castlemont pass.

All and all the Windbreakers are still the only undefeated team in club football in Northern California.

Touch Football

They'll Have To Get Up Earlier In The Morning To Beat The Colma A.M.

By HARRY ARONSON
Coordinator of Athletics

Colma a.m. "B" 13, Colma p.m. "B" 0.
Colma a.m. "A" 6, Colma p.m. "A" 26.

The high scoring Colma p.m. "B" team ran into a brick wall last Saturday at Marchbanks Park when they were dropped from their first place tie with Colma a.m. "Bees" by the convincing score of 13 to 0.

The first half was packed with many incomplete passes on both sides, and the lack of anything that resembled a sustained drive to pay dirt. The a.m. team, coached by Dan Sienes, former U.S.F. athlete, came up with an air tight defense which held Daryl Hall and his p.m. mates in check throughout the contest. The half time score read 0 to 0.

In the second half the a.m. team began to play for keeps and decided to make some touchdowns. After a scoreless third period, Danny Rasmussen, a.m. halfback, put on his track shoes, literally speaking, and ran the p.m. ends ragged. On a series of nice gains he moved the ball to the p.m. two yard line. Ron Davis then tossed a short pass to Carl Meechi standing alone in the end zone for the initial score. Rasmussen tossed to Meechi for the extra point and the a.m. boys had seven points on the scoreboard.

On Ice
With time running out in the fourth quarter the a.m. team put the game on ice with another score, this one a pass from Rasmussen to Eikenberry, rangy a.m. end. The try for extra point failed and the final score remained 13 to 0. The win places the Colma "B" team in the top spot of the "B" division, with two wins against no losses.

The Colma p.m. "A" team continued to maintain their four touchdowns per game average by dumping the a.m. "A" squad, 26 to 6. Once again the long passing of Jerry Gruenwald proved too much for the opposition as he threw three touchdown passes to pace the p.m. team.

In the first quarter Don Perrin, a.m. halfback took the opening kickoff and brought the ball up to the forty yard line, but fumbled with the p.m. team recovering. In less time than it takes to tie a knot in your shoelace, Jerry Gruenwald let fly a forty yarder into the outstretched hands of Darell Hutchinson, who caught the ball with two a.m. defenders guarding him.

Fine Passing
Gruenwald continued his passing skill and connected a beauty to Corky Cortez, good for 20 yards, after the a.m. team failed to make any headway, midway in the quarter. Mixing the plays up, Bob Grubb swept his own right end and brought the ball down to the a.m. 15 yard stripe. Faking an end run, Gruenwald rifled a short toss to Dick Marquez in the end zone for the second score for the p.m. boys. The extra point was added by Grubb when he accepted a pass from Gruenwald.

In the second period the a.m. team, with John Lucia on the throwing end, managed to complete a few passes to Herman Stevenson, but they failed to dent the p.m. defense for a score. Taking the ball over on downs, the p.m. boys scored again with Gruenwald pitching a beauty to Hutchinson good for 45 yards. The half time score read, 19 to 0.

Third Period
The third period found the p.m. team scoring once and intercepting several Lucia passes. With his back to the wall, Lucia attempting to pass was rushed and threw into the waiting arms of Robert Bailey, p.m. end, who was immediately tagged on the a.m. ten yard line. On the first play Bob Grubb raced around left end to rack up another p.m. touchdown. Gruenwald passed to Hutchinson for the extra point to bring the total up to 26 points.

Late in the fourth quarter the a.m. team saved themselves from a shut out when John Lucia romped 60 yards to score the only touch down for his side. The p.m. team played aggressive ball throughout the contest and had the a.m. team bottled up most of the morning.

The games this Saturday will bring together Our Lady of Perpetua Help vs. the Colma p.m. teams. The OLPH teams are winless and will be out to upset the Colma boys who defeated them in the first round of play.

Sarto Takes Fourth Win In Penn. League

Left fielder Ronie Foot singled with one aboard in the tenth frame to give Sarto's AC a 3-2 win over The San Bruno Newells and their fourth consecutive victory in the Peninsula baseball league.

Thallender allowed four hits and fanned 14 batters to place Sarto at the top of Peninsula league with the only undefeated record. The locals bagged seven hits, with Costa banging two for five. Sarto meets the Palo Alto Oaks at Marchbanks Park Sunday at 2 p.m.

Young Chuck Donley, pitcher from Jefferson Union high, had little trouble with the Tony Pandycub, allowing them five hits in leading Vince and Freds to an 8-0 victory.

Batting big-guns for the local nine were Bob Malman, with two for four and four runs batted in, Clayton, two for four and two RBIs, and Domecous with two hits in as many times at bat. The victory gave Vince and Freds a two and nothing record in the Golden Gate Park AA recreation league.

In a battle of two local clubs last Sunday, between Daly City AC and Satan AC, the three hit pitching of Lynch paid off, to give Daly City AC the 4-0 nod.

First baseman Delcampo and third baseman Courtney divided four of the winners six hits, while B. Mjehvich binged two of the losers three clouts.

Sartos Club took their second straight game in the AA league, downing S. F. A. C. 11-1.

Bud Vlasen collected four hits in five trips to the plate to lead the victors. Vulsan leads the newly formed league in batting honors with a .800 batting average.

Plunkett Sparks Local 120 Casabamen To 41-27 Victory Over Burlingame

With the PAL 120 and 110 basketball league at the halfway mark, the Jefferson Indians 120s have compiled a two win, two loss record, the most recent victory being against Burlingame last week, 41-27.

Although their record is by no means exceptional, a series of events welcomed by the local squad could still place them on top of the PAL with a tie.

The 28-24 win by San Mateo was accompanied by an official protest filed by Coach Mike Orlich, the reason being a controversy over a play which was contrary to the official record book.

If league officials sanction the protest, and the Indians can go the remaining distance undefeated, they would have a chance for a tie for top honors.

Naturally this is a large task but except for undefeated Lincoln high of San Jose, the Jeffersonians have met most of the top teams in the league.

In their loss to San Jose, they led until the closing minutes, but came out on the short end of a 24-21 score. A loss by the Lincolnites would bolster the Indians chances.

Jefferson must meet Palo Alto Half Moon Bay, Sequoia, and South San Francisco in the closing weeks of the league.

Second string guard Jack Plunkett's 14 point sparked Coach Orlich's 120 team to a 41-27 victory over Burlingame last week.

All Lagomarsino's excellent floor play and ball handling along with the scoring of Leo Villar, Tom Costello, and Bob Dorsey who tabbed seven points each, was too much for the Burlingame five.

The 110s dropped a 28-12 decision.

Army Tank Driver In B.M. Auto Race

Jimmy Davies, hard-driving Van Nuys ace who led the Indianapolis classic for 25 laps this year, has signed to compete in the 150-mile AAA National Championship big car race slated Nov. 11 at Bay Meadows.

Davies, who answers roll call as a member of the U. S. Army Tank Corps at Camp Cooke, will drive the same L. E. Parks Offenhauser Special in which he set the 60 and 70-lap records while driving in the Indianapolis "500" until his auto's gears snapped under the strain.

The fiery, red-headed speed merchant placed fifth in the 100-mile race recently in San Jose. He is a graduate from hot-rod ranks and has shown much promise on the tough National Championship circuit. Davies won the 100-mile affair two years ago at Del Mar in which the famed Rex Mays met death.

Davies has been hampered in his efforts this season due to mechanical difficulties, but he figures among the top contenders for the Armistice Day speedfest. He learned much of his technique from 1950 Indianapolis Winner Johnnie Parsons, who is Davies' Van Nuys neighbor.

Priced at $2, $3 and $4 plus tax, duets for the Bay Meadows race are available today at the Mateo turf plant.

Vandalism Continues On Collopy Premises

Even the birds are committing their share of vandalism on the building belonging to Mrs. Collopy, located at Market and Mission streets, according to Daly City police, whose records for last Sunday's report on this property list "spots on the roof."

Other damages reported recently include: breaking off a piece of the drain pipe, cracking a pane of glass in the skylight, breaking a glass in the round window on the east side of the building, breaking a window on the south side of the building, and breaking four shingles on the south side of the roof.

Health And Welfare Of Children Emphasized At October Meeting

Health and welfare of children and health education for their parents was emphasized in numerous ways at the October meeting of Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers. McKinley school in Burlingame was host for the sessions on Thursday, October 18, when Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos presided.

George V. White, district superintendent of Burlingame schools, expressed "a recurring theme: 'We can't put our children in refrigeration until schools are built. Without priorities for steel, which is being used to build bigger bars and eating places, the future of education in San Mateo county is appallingly restricted.'"

Resolution

Legislation chairman Mrs. Gregory Davis of San Mateo asked for a resolution to the National Production Authority reflecting alarm of the District about the building situation. Mrs. Davis stated, "PTA must be concerned with the effect poor educational facilities will have on the next generation of administrators, business men, homemakers, and peacemakers."

"Family Circles," a film on interdependent personal relationships, and the socio-drama "Scattered Showers" about discipline for five year olds, were discussed by Dr. Freidy Heisler of Carmel, president of the Monterey county Mental Health Society, and Mrs. Frances Miller of San Francisco State College education department. Cast in the drama were Mrs. Clemens Freidell, Jr., of San Mateo and Mrs. Verne W. Roberts and Mrs. Carl Hagstrom of Burlingame.

District Health Department members were introduced by the director Mrs. Warren Pingree of Menlo Park, who also reported for the Governor's conference in Sacramento on "Problems of the Aging." Primary objective of health education by the San Mateo county Tuberculosis and Health association was explained by Mary Helen Williamson, newly appointed executive secretary, and volunteers for the annual Christmas seal sale were requested.

Plea Made

Community service chairman Mrs. R. F. Palmer of San Mateo presented a plea for blood donors from all local associations during the November Red Cross drive. It was voted to recommend that T.V. channel 9 be reserved for educational purposes on motion of Mrs. L. Linden Player of San Mateo. Problems of narcotic addiction and pin ball machine licensing were referred after discussion to special committees.

Expenses of delegates to section meetings of the San Mateo county Council of Social Agencies were approved and will include recreation, child welfare, and health. A bill for special tables to equip the new building of El Portal del Sol school in South San Mateo was paid in part from district student aid funds.

Announcement

Announcements were made by Mrs. Harold Wilde of Burlingame, international relations chairman, who stressed United Nations week observance, Mrs. Richard Andersen of San Mateo, membership chairman, Mrs. David R. Sears of Belmont, conservation of Butano redwoods, Mrs. Faun Tusca of Burlingame, vital statistics for the extension department, and Mrs. A. W. Lauffenburger of Daly City, model newettes.

On Friday, November 9, the Commander's cottage at the Coyote Point campus of San Mateo Junior college will be the locale of a Founders day workshop, and a conference on publicity from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Unit chairmen

Apartment Project Opened

LOOKING OVER THE PLANS for the new half-million dollar apartment house building project on Hillside Boulevard are a carpenter and Tom Callan Jr. The modern apartment buildings are being constructed by the Callan Realty Company, 2790 Junipero Serra Boulevard. (Photo by Corner)

A half-million dollar apartment house project was underway today on Hillside Boulevard between Price and Abbey streets.

The apartments are being constructed by the Callan Realty Company, 2790 Junipero Serra boulevard. In scope it is the largest such project east of Junipero Serra boulevard, and second in size only to apartment construction in Westlake.

Within the next 120 days, 32 apartments will be ready for occupancy, Mike Callan said today. When completed, they will be 17 two story frame stucco apartment buildings, and 68 individual apartments.

Of special interest to the community, is a plan to construct an outdoor swimming pool behind the apartment buildings. The pool, the first of its kind in Daly City, will be available for use to those who rent the apartments.

In addition to the pool, Callan has planned a complete play area, from tennis courts to sand boxes.

Architecturally, too, the buildings will be a credit to the community. They are all designed all designed along modern clean, sweeping lines with plenty of window space.

But the best news of all is the rent Callan will ask for the apartments. He said they will go for $67.50 a month.

P.T.A. LUNCHEON TO BE HELD MONDAY

Mrs. Albert L. Desmond, assisted by Mrs. Fred LaSoulé, is making arrangements for a luncheon for the Mission high school Parent-Teacher association to be held at her home, 145 Wilshire avenue, Monday.

Besides Mrs. Edmund Coussens, president, and other members of the Mission high school PTA, additional guests of honor will be Mrs. W. S. Rains, councilor, central section; Mrs. L. G. Stone, councilor, Buena Vista section; Mrs. M. J. Bellezza, exceptional child chairman, second district; Mrs. R. E. Dill, president, Balboa PTA; Mrs. Howard Dunbar, president, and Mrs. Fred Kruse, vice president, of the newly formed Westlake PTA.

New Colma PTA To Elect Officers

Election Slated Next Wednesday

Plans for election and installation of officers for the new Parent-Teacher association at the Colma school were formulated at the executive board meeting of the Crocker Parent-Teacher association held Tuesday in the school library.

These plans will be carried out at the meeting of the new group scheduled for Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Colma school at Market street and Hillside boulevard. Refreshments will be served by members of the Crocker PTA. All parents with children in the Colma school are invited to attend this meeting and become charter members of the group.

The executive board meeting was called to order by Mrs. Andrew Vranich.

OUR SERVICEMEN

(This column brings you news of men in the armed service. In order that it may cover the activities of all Daly City area men, drop into The Record office, 3317 San Jose Ave., or call PLaza 5-4321.)

WITH THE 1ST CAV. DIV. IN KOREA—Pfc. Richard D. Grant, 350 Crocker avenue, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, a symbol of close-quarter fighting with the enemy, while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

The badge, consisting of a miniature replica of a Revolutionary War flintlock mounted on a blue background and superimposed on a silver wreath, distinguishes the actual fighting men from rear area and service troops.

Scheduled to graduate from the Naval Machinist's Mate School, Service School Command, U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., on Nov. 2 is Jess Martinez, machinist's mate fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Martinez of 61 Alexander avenue.

Martinez, who entered the Naval service in April, 1951, received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego.

Before entering the Navy, Martinez attended Jefferson Union High School.

Students at the school are taught to install, operate, and make repairs to ships' engines and all mechanical equipment. This includes maintenance and repair of outside machinery such as the ship's steering engines, cranes, refrigeration and air conditioning equipment.

Graduates are generally assigned to shipboard duties upon completion of their training.

Emydian Group Gives Dinner

Members of Emydian Institute, No. 154, Young Ladies Institute, were hostesses to their families and friends at a ham dinner at the Holy Angeles Parish Hall,

Cpl. Gary Lyon, 20 years old, 49 Los Banos Avenue, Daly City, was recently awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds he received at Hagar Ridge in Korea, November 29, 1950.

Cpl. Lyon, who is stationed at the U. S. Marine Corps Depot of Supplies here, enlisted in the Marines January 20, 1948. He was sent to Korea September 6, 1950, and returned December 17 of that year, following his battle injury. He was wounded in the left arm when an enemy grenade exploded near him. Adjusting his newly won medal is his pretty wife, the former Miss Louise Gibbons, of Tehama, California. (Official USMC Photo).

October 26.

The following members served on the committee in charge of arrangements for the dinner: Mrs. Dorothy Zanone, chairman; Mrs. Mary Gianni, Mrs. Katherine Casentini, Mrs. Celia Fuchs, Mrs. Della Grayani and Miss Mary Belli.

(The following is a list of local men now in the service, and where they may be reached. The Record prints this list as a public service. Any additions, or changes, should be addressed to The Record, 3317 San Jose avenue—or by phoning PLaza 5-4321. Please help us to keep this list up-to-date, as it will facilitate mail to men in the armed forces.)

OBITUARY

HENRY MCGRAW

Henry McGraw, 73, a resident of South San Francisco for 48 years, passed away Saturday, October 27, in San Francisco.

Mr. McGraw, who retired from the South San Francisco police force three years ago, was the oldest retired police officer in San Mateo county. He was a member of the Order of the Eagles for 40 years.

He was the husband of Mrs. Mary E. McGraw. Mr. McGraw survived by sons, Elton McGraw, John McGraw and William McGraw, and daughter Mrs. Marjorie.

He was the beloved grandfather of Patricia, Maureen, and Michael McGraw, and Frank, Tom, John and Mary Male.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, October 30, from the Nier San Bruno Funeral Home, following which a Requiem Mass was celebrated at the church of All Souls in South San Francisco. Pallbearers were South San Francisco Chief of Police Louis Belloni and police officers.

Interment was at Holy Cross cemetery.

MARGARET MARSH

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Margaret Marsh, 45, Daly City housewife, on Wednesday, October 31, at the W. C. Lasswell Mortuary.

Mrs. Marsh, 79 Los Banos avenue, who was a native of Kansas, passed away in San Mateo on Monday, October 29.

She is survived by her husband John L. Marsh and children Harold Austin and Jerald Marsh.

Interment was at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park.

SQUARE DANCE SLATED SATURDAY

Folk dancers, today, were invited to attend a square dance to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Brisbane School in Brisbane.

Admission is free, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The dance is being sponsored by Circle No. 8 Square Dancing Club. Red Fuller will be the caller.

Garden Club Meets Tuesday

"The Charm of Old Glass" will be the topic of a lecture to be given at the regular meeting of the Daly City Garden Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday, November 6.

The meeting will be held in the Hall of Flowers at the Bungalow Nursery, Hillside boulevard.

Guest speaker is Mrs. R. W. Blossen. Mrs. F. Slacido will be hostess, while flower arrangement will be under the direction of Shirrel Mollet.

Visitors are cordially invited to the meeting. Those interested are asked to contact Mrs. L. De Leon, membership chairman, a Juniper 4-4307.

CHURCH DINNER SLATED WEDNESDAY

Plans for the businessmen's fried chicken dinner at Grace Presbyterian church, Wednesday are progressing according to schedule.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used for landscaping of the church grounds.

After the dinner, Dr. Christie Innes of Calvary Presbyterian church will give a lecture on his trip to the Near East, Holy Land Egypt and other parts.

DON'T RACE TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Don't race with the traffic lights at intersections, advises the National Automobile club. Trying to save yourself a few minutes of time may cost you a lifetime of regret.
